700 RAILROADS IN RATE ACTION

C. of C. Enters Complaint With I. C. C.

RATES UNDER ATTACK

Gross Discrimination Is Claimed Against Pt. Arthur

Naming 700 railroads as defendants, the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping has entered formal complaint with the Interstate Commerce commission asking a change be made in constant rules as Port Arthur may be given the same import and export rates of shipping as any other Gulf port, H. X. Taylor, traffic manager, announced this morning on his return from Washington.

Demand Even Break

Blank discriminations now prevail against Port Arthur as a port in the matter of export and import shipping rates. These vary from small amounts to what some shippers are confident are grossly excessive.

At least one shippers break with other Gulf ports and are asking the federal commission for a sweeping revision and adjustment of rates, Taylor said.

The case will be heard in Port Arthur sometime in October, Taylor indicated.

STORM OVER

Tampico Disturbance Disappears, Report

The disturbance that was over the Southwestern Gulf of Mexico has apparently moved inland over Mexico and dissipated, according to an advisory message received Sunday by Ernest Carson, U. S. weather bureau observer here, from J. Mitchell, of Washington, D. C.

Low pressure area in the vicinity of Tampico, Mexico, was reported Saturday, although no high winds developed, according to advice received by Carson from Washington.

giving word of the progress of the disturbance in the lower gulf.

POSSUM INCLUDED

IN SHERIFF'S CAPTURE

"Jefferson county people are getting better all the time, for my men and I worked all day Sunday and never picked up anything but a boot-legger and a possum," Sheriff T. A. Garner, in the city late last night on business, said.

The possum was picked up near McFadden's beach and was brought in by the officers to be used as a mascot.

Pleasure Seekers Attending Refinery Workers Picnic Estimated to Total More Than 20,000

Pleasure-mad thousands swarmed up and down McFadden's beach yesterday until far into the night attending the refinery workers' picnic.

The crowd was estimated at 20,000, the stream of visitors beginning early yesterday morning and fresh detachments of cars continuing to come until after dark.

"The picnic was a success, and I'm sure everyone had the time of their life," said Henry Mettre, of the Refinery Workers local this morning.

"We had a much bigger crowd than we had expected."

"It was the best behaved crowd I've ever seen at any picnic," said Sheriff T. A. Garner last night on the way back.

Swimming was not the only amusement, for there were dancing, racket on the beach, games, and what not going on up and down the beach for a distance of more than half a mile.

Motorcycle Hits Horse, Woman Killed

PT. ARTHUR GIRL IS CRASH VICTIM

Mrs. Agnes Campbell Is Crushed By Machine

DIES IN RESCUE CAR

Accident Occurs on Crowded Beach Road

Crushed beneath a motorcycle when it crashed into a horse on the Sabine road, below, Keith Lake Sunday night, Mrs. Agnes Campbell, 39, of 1347 Harrison avenue, Beaumont, died, while being rushed to Mary Gibbs hospital by passing motorists.

Mrs. Campbell suffered internal injuries, her left hand was badly mangled and her left shoulder, arm and side severely cut and bruised, hospital authorities said.

Stephen Himmel, of 240 Twelfth street, driving the motorcycle, sustained minor cuts and bruises when the machine was wrecked, witnesses said.

With a party of friends and relatives, Mrs. Campbell and Himmel were returning from McFadden's beach, riding a motorcycle ahead of the automobiles in which other members of the party were.

The motorcycle crashed into a horse and the automobiles were kept up with the motorcycle, it was reported here today.

A party of Port Arthurians, including A. J. Byland, of 542 Sixth street, took the injured woman into their automobile and sped to the hospital in Port Arthur, with her, arriving about midnight, according to reports at the institution. Death had apparently occurred shortly after Mrs. Campbell was picked up and the automobile started on the drive to this city, physicians said.

For several days past Mrs. Campbell had been visiting her sister, Mrs. George Smith, and her mother, Mrs. Harry Reed, of 605 West Fourteenth street. Besides these relatives, she is survived by Clyde T. Campbell, lineerman for the Postal Telegraph company, of Beaumont; her father, W. M. Crane, of Nederland, Texas; a sister, Mrs. Emmett Langham, of 501 Pine street, Beaumont; and one brother, Zebbon Crane, of Vanderbilt, Texas.

Funeral services for Mrs. Campbell will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, 1347 Harrison avenue, Beaumont, and burial made in Magnolia cemetery there, under the direction of J. E. Grammer, undertaker.

Police Car Runs Out Of Gas on Gasless Sunday, 3 Girls and Boy Escape

BEAUMONT, Texas, June 23.—"Gasless Sunday" in Beaumont was responsible for three girls and a boy escaping arrest here yesterday afternoon. A call was received from the Port Arthur police department last occupants of a Ford roadster had stopped a man and released him of a $200 diamond ring. Local officers lay in wait on the Port Arthur road, waiting for the car.

The car was reported to be headed toward Beaumont. A girl was driving the car when it was first seen. The police were not able to catch up with it until it reached Westinghouse boulevard. Suddenly there was a spattering noise and a minute later the car in which the girls were riding stopped.

Other occupants were found cowering in the bushes. An investigation of the city car had been made and by the time the police had drawn some from the morning motorists, the other car had disappeared.

GIRL INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Is Found on Running Board Of Another Car

Collision of a large touring car and a light coupe shortly after midnight this morning resulted in injuries to Miss Sallie Mae Edge, 20, Eighth street, which caused the loss of the girl, of her front teeth, as she brained to her face and contusions about her body.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Procter street and Beaumont avenue, after the coupe driven by Miss Edge had just entered Twelfth street, she said. The coupe was hurt against a post supporting the trolley power line and was wrecked.

Miss Edge was thrown from the machine and was found on the running board of the heavy car after a collision. The front of the car was damaged.

Occupants of the touring car were reported by police officials to be Garyburn, L. M. Garyburn, L. E. Williams and J. P. Hickman, who police said, of $10 each in corporation of this morning.

Crash of the two machines was heard for several blocks and attracted many to the scene.

Will Bryan Upset Demo Pie Wagon? Sphinx Worries Chiefs

Convention Will Hear From Me, Says Silver-Tongued Orator, Three Times Democratic Nominee

NEW YORK, June 23.—A familiar shadow fell across the turbulent foreground of the democratic convention today. It took the form of a well known broad-brimmed hat with flowing locks behind and round features and a corpulent body and announced the impending arrival of William J. Bryan.

"Big Bosses" among the democrats who a month ago had professed no interest in Bryan's existence were beginning to look on him as a hot-looking prospect.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN

In the lobbies of the hotels, where delegates milled about and rumors flew thick and fast, the talk was of Bryan, what Bryan would do, what stand he will take in case his delegation vote for McAdoo should ever be elected.

The convention will hear from me," was Bryan's last words on the subject, and bosses, delegates, but more than all these—the people were waiting to hear what it was the silver-tongued campaigner had to say.

Pledged to McAdoo

The lobbies of these hotels buzzed with interest queries about Bryan's arrival. There were more people talking Bryan than on any other subject at the Waldorf.

Bryan's delegation from Florida is pledged to McAdoo and it was expected that conferences at the Vanderbilt, where the Californians' forces are centered, would be among the campaigner's first interests.

His expected utterances on the wet and dry issue were looked forward to as perhaps the outstanding feature of this convention.

BELIEVE DREIER

ATTACK VICTIM

Wounded By Knife, Robbed, Is Theory

Mysterious circumstances pointing to a knife attack and robbery by an unknown assailant riding in the coupe with W. A. Dreier, of 1901 Sixth street, who was found nearly submerged in his coupe, overturned in a water filled ditch near Port Neches Saturday, became known today, friends said.

Slight improvement in Dreier's condition was apparent today, it was reported at his home, and he is still unable to give a coherent account of the events preceding the wrecking of his car near Port Neches Saturday.

Relative said. Cause of his continued delirium with brief semi-consciousness, also remained a mystery.

A knife wound in Dreier's body, at the point of the hip, is not serious, attending physicians declared, and no other injuries, except blistered skin on his left side where he lay 19, the oil-coated water in the ditch, were suffered, examination showed.

When Dreier left his home Saturday morning for his office in the Denton building, he told members of his family that he was going to the telephone office early Saturday to pay his telephone bill. Friends said they saw him down town early Saturday, and from then until he was found in the wrecked coupe, no one seems to have seen Dreier. He did not go to the telephone office Saturday as he had planned, relatives said.

Houston Lad Keeps Up Comatose State

HOUSTON, June 23.—The condition of Manuel Middleton, 12-year-old Houston boy, remained "unchanged" on his thirty-seventh day of coma.

TEXAS DEMOS SLATE OFFICERS

Delegation Organizes Preliminary to Convention

HICKS CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Parliou of Liberty Gets On Two Committees

NEW YORK, June 23.—The Texas delegation, which will have a solid vote for McAdoo, organized today at the Mackinac hotel by naming Marshall Hicks of San Antonio chairman.

Tom Love is national committee man and Mrs. K. T. Bloodworth of Port Worth is on the credentials committee.

Mrs. Murrell Beckner of Dallas was named to the credentials committee.

Bryan On Resolutions

Judge Alva Bryan of Waco, one of the leaders in the McAdoo movement, was made member of the resolutions committee.

Bryan is opposed to attacking the Klan and will be against modification of the Volstead act.

The delegation selected Judge J. W. Sullivan of Denton for the credentials committee, and Judge W. L. Thornton of Dallas on the rules committee.

To a woman, Mrs. J. H. Parliou of Liberty, goes the honor of being a member of the committee on permanent organization. She was elected without opposition. The leaders of the contingent say their conferences have been marked by complete harmony, that they plan to vote for McAdoo indefinitely and that there will be no break in the delegation.

Others elected were: Permanent organization, Thomas H. Ball, of Port Arthur; the presidential nominee, Mrs. Marshall Hicks and J. M. Boyle, to notify the vice-presidential nominee, Miss Florence Sterling and H. H. Hamilton.

JOINT COMMITTEE AT WORK ON STYLE SHOW

Details of the proposed annual style show to be held at the Pleasure Pier each Fourth of July are being worked out by a joint committee from the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping and the Retail Merchants association. Plans are to have one of the large pier buildings fitted up with booths on the ground floor, while the proposed style promenade will be held upstairs.

Oral arguments in the case will be presented to the chamber on June 28. Henry Keene, prominent Washington traffic attorney employed by the chamber as counsel, will present Port Arthur's claim against the company. An effort is being made by the shipping company to eliminate Port Arthur as a port of call.

Maughan Nears Cheyenne In Dawn to Dusk Air Classic

Intrepid Airmen's Gas Line Delays Him to Dayton But He Makes Up Part Time

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., June 23.—Lieut. Russell Maughan left North Platte at 1 p. m. today after a forced landing to take on gasoline and oil.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 23.—Lieutenant Russell Maughan, attempting to cross the continent from dawn to dusk, landed at Rosecrans Flying Field at 10:55 a. m. central standard time today. He was slightly behind schedule. He took off for Cheyenne at 11:37.

A great cheer arose from the crowd of spectators as a tall, solemn, bronzed man slipped from the cockpit, gave a few short, sharp orders to mechanics before turning to an automobile which rushed up carrying refreshments.

Mechanics worked feverishly over the plane, filling the gasoline tank, changing oil and going over the machine thoroughly.

Maughan didn't seem to be worried regarding the delay caused by a leaking gasoline connection at Dayton.

"Everything is working fine and it looks like I'm on the time now," he told brother aviation officials who greeted him.

He took a large sized bite out of a chicken sandwich and drained a goblet of milk at a gulp.

"Let them to speed up. Let me know when they are ready—and don't bother me," Maughan said as he closed his eyes, apparently attempting to relax from the strenuous grind. He leaned against the side of the auto as the mechanics completed their work.

Maughan, who left Dayton an hour behind schedule time, pushed his engine relentlessly on the jump to St. Joseph. It took him four hours and six minutes to cover the 570 miles from New York to Dayton and in flying from Dayton to St. Joseph he covered the same distance in three hours and 37 minutes.

WOULD STOP HIM BEFORE BALLOT

Battle Centers on Resolution Personnel

SMITH CONFIDENT

Underwood Comes to Fore in Attack on Klan

By United Press HEADQUARTERS, WASHINGTON, June 23.—Forces against William G. McAdoo for the democratic presidential nomination are concentrating today on strategy to bring a anti-Klan issue directly before the convention for a vote—and, by winning the fight on the floor, beat McAdoo before the balloting for a nominee begins.

This line of action was virtually agreed upon by the anti-McAdoo leaders following a campaign of McAdoo's defections. The campaign is said to have disclosed many delegates instructed, or preferring to vote for McAdoo as the nominee, are ready and anxious to vote against a strong anti-Klan plank which would cause the organization, specifically.

As a result, the first big fight of the convention will be started through the resolutions committee, which drafts the party platform. McAdoo adherents probably will have a majority on that committee that this majority will report out a plank on the Klan subject, so moderate as to name two Klan directly, according to all indications today.

The anti-McAdoo representatives on the committee would then draft a minority anti-Klan plank, naming the organization and thus through its report to the convention force a vote on the two proposals.

It is at this point that the opponents of the California leader would hope to break down his forces. They claim that in some instances a majority of the McAdoo men on the delegates are for an out and out anti-Klan plank.

Smith Talks

They claim further they have approximately 600 votes already lined up for such a minority report and that when the roll was called there would be approximately 800 ballots cast against the McAdoo plank recommended by the resolutions committee and in favor of the stronger minority plank. Such an overwhelming defeat for the McAdoo element in the convention, they are convinced, would definitely eliminate him. If indeed he would not refuse to run on a platform bearing such a plank.

A significant remark of Governor Smith's today, added strength to the conviction the fight on this issue will not only be bitter but prolonged.

"This convention," he said, "won't be finished this week, and as a matter of fact the delegates will be lucky if they get to balloting on a nominee by Saturday. Incidentally, I am more confident than ever of the outcome."

To meet this emergency the McAdoo leaders are studying the convention situation today with a view to:

Two Courses Open

1.—Making a fight of it on the floor of the convention with the possibility of losing.

2.—Submitting to the demands of the opposition leaders for a strong anti-Klan plank, subscribing to a unanimous report from the committee on a plank naming the Klan specifically and thereby, in committee eliminating the Klan issue because there would be no minority report through which to bring the matter up on the convention floor. McAdoo already has said that this and other principles were matters for the convention to decide and if the delegates settled it the fight would be straight away among the candidates.

With regard to the first of the alternatives, numbers of the McAdoo leaders persist in the belief that George Brennan, Ed Moore and others leading the fight for a strong anti-Klan plank are merely throwing up a smoke screen. They point out that the Illinois state convention endorsed a moderate Klan plank which very closely followed the language of that used by the Kentucky state convention.

The Newcomers Within Our Gates

The Entrance into our city of newcomers should be noted with pleasure by every citizen of the community. Each new arrival means a more rapid growth for Port Arthur. Each new face should give us an added inspiration to work for Port Arthur and its interests.

There is much here to interest the newcomer. The mammoth refineries sending their ships into every part of the world; whose huge payrolls if spent in Port Arthur would soon place Port Arthur among the leading cities of Texas.

Meet the newcomers half way. Make them feel that they want to settle here. In every way

GIVE THEM A WARM WELCOME

Port Arthur spends thousands of dollars each year inducing people to visit and see advantages we have to offer. We are fully aware of when the newcomer arrives they should receive a royal welcome. No effort should be spared to make them feel at home. Perhaps they are neighbors of YOURS. If so, get acquainted with them.

As the newcomers go up and down the busy streets of Port Arthur they will see that local business houses are striving with might and main to put Port Arthur over the top. Women's stores feature the same styles, the same patterns, the same quality to be seen in the busy marts of the East. The furniture stores with their tremendous stocks, will interest the prospective home furnisher. The men's store, the laundries, the music stores, the hardware stores, the grocery and meat markets are all ready to serve the newcomers in the same manner they probably expect from cities much larger than Port Arthur.

The school system of Port Arthur (one of the finest in the United States) will interest the newcomers. A visit to the Business College will disclose features that are peculiar alone to that particular institution. The churches stand ready to welcome the newcomers. The library is a point of interest.

Investigation will show that the banks, building and loans, and other financial institutions are reliable, sound, and offer perfect service. Encourage newcomers to call on them freely for advice.

In short, encourage the newcomers in every way to make Port Arthur their home. Encourage them to build their own homes. The lumber companies will give free advice to become permanent citizens and boosters for this bustling community. And set them the example of home buying. You will find that the average newcomer follows the example of the veteran citizen.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

OWE NO MAN ANYTHING, BUT TO LOVE ONE ANOTHER: FOR HE THAT LOVETH ANOTHER: HATH FULFILLED THE LAW. ROM. 13:8.

The Editorial Mind

However,
comma

Odds and Ends and Comments on Our Morning Mail

The porcupine is protected by law in most places, a stiff fine as the penalty for killing him, because he's the only animal that a man lost in the woods can kill with a club.

Occasionally a porcupine dashes up a tree when a man approaches. But usually he stands tranquilly, like a lamb awaiting slaughter.

His pose is a vulnerable spot. A sharp blow kills.

Nature overlooks no best. She provides for everything. We realize this when we ponder that an easily killed animal is placed in the woods for lost starting men.

Nature provides for us in nearly every other emergency, barring accident. Nearly all our social and economic problems are due to violations of natural laws. The solution of these problems is in studying natural laws, rather than by legislation.

Cities have more and more problems as they get larger, simply because they are getting farther and farther from nature.

The porcupine is man's best friend for an emergency meal in the woods. And yet the average man, as soon as he sees a porcupine, wants to kill it.

Mr. Force, of course, isn't harming the man. But the man has a vicious streak that prompts him to destroy when the destruction doesn't hurt his own personal property or body. You've observed that hotel guests are rarely as careful of furnishings as they would be at home where their own belongings are concerned. Did you ever see a man wipe his shoes with a towel he owned himself?

A kill tribe that hasn't changed its customs for 3,000 years is discovered in northern Africa. They live the same as their ancestors of 30 centuries ago.

We'd have less confusion and get our bearings if we stood still for 10 years or more. Science and applied economics are developing faster than man's ability to control them.

A lot of small-time actors, not making as much money as they need, are selling goods as a side-line—clothing, groceries, etc.

In Argentina, teachers have classes only half the day, and hold outside jobs the rest of the time.

Possibly we are approaching such a high standard of "efficiency" that most of us will have to hold down two jobs to get enough to eat.

We're Japan's leading export customer. We buy more from her than she from us. Last year Japan sold us over 100 million dollars worth of goods more than she bought from us.

They had been drinking synthetic gin, it is getting to be a familiar expression in connection with most crimes that get the headlines.

Synthetic gin—flavored alcohol, known to the underworld as "white line"—is not a creation of prohibition. For several years before American went dry, the bulk of its gin was faked and labeled in the east.

Butter liquor—great of many engaged in the liquor traffic—helped make the country dry.

The liquor industry committed suicide.

Traffic congestion costs Manhattan Island, N. Y., over 152 million dollars a year, it is estimated. Chicago toll is about as much. Other big cities also pay.

The "lost" is mainly loss of personal time and delay of truck and wagon deliveries. To tell it a loss is a bit foolish. For every $1 lost by multiplicity of autos, at least $10 is saved by the auto time and labor-saving services.

Science now can take a ton of straw and turn it into 10,000 cubic feet of gas for lighting the home and cooking stoves. In addition, the straw yields such by-products as 10 gallons of turpentine, 500 pounds of carbon, ammonia, etc.

This is announced by the department of agriculture. However, it cautions, the straw-converting machine is not yet practical enough for farm use. But there is hope.

The farmer of the future will be a laboratory chemist. This tendency is realized from comparative modern farming with that of the past.

"Elert" performs before Harvard psychologists, and has them guessing. He can throw himself into cataleptic steeves voluntarily, in which pins and knives can be thrust into his flesh without pain or blood.

It is the last word in absolute self-control. As a rule, the Chinese have a similar power in a mild sense, being able to undergo operations without anesthesia. The overburdened taxpayer is a similar phenomenon.

NEFF REFUSES TO BOW TO BOSSES, GOES AS SPECTATOR TO CONVENTION

Governor Pat Morris Neff has gone to the democratic national convention in New York as a spectator. This is much more pleasurable than going to New York as a fattered delegate under the unit rule to be voted by the political bosses of the state according to their whims or caprices.

Governor Neff is the governor of the greatest of American states. He was fighting for prohibition and equal suffrage years before William Gibbs McAdoo or his managers were heard of in the political circles of America.

He made a fight for an uninstructed delegation and he lost. He could have gone to New York as an instructed delegate but he refused to go. This much for Neff, the spectator. He was born free, he lived free, he follows the dictates of his own conscience, he never bows to bosses, and his administration has been free from the taint of graft, the heel of oppression and there has been no deputy governor.

This is something of a record for a democrat to have made in the state of Texas or in any other state for that matter. Here is hoping that the spectator will have a lot of fun in the city where the bright lights glow.

THIS IS FATE OF WAR HERO

General Jan Christian Smuts of South Africa was one of the outstanding figures of the world war. He was the Prime Minister of the South African government and he held the boers to the allied cause. He had been a gallant soldier on the side of the boers in their war with the British but after that war was over he became the head of the South African government and did all in his power to cement the union of the dejected boers and the Britishers who had won the war.

General Smuts and Woodrow Wilson became fast friends in the Paris Conference and the South African military genius and statesman was loyal to Wilson during all the dark hours of the conference which led to the making and the signing of the Versailles treaty. General Smuts returned to South Africa one of the foremost figures on the world stage of action, and he ruled until a very recent date.

Now his government has been overthrown and he is no longer Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa. Woodrow Wilson said of Smuts that he was the ablest of all foreign statesmen, a man with a conscience and a soul, ever battling for the rights of the weaker nations and their people.

All the war ministers have been dethroned; Woodrow Wilson is dead, and many of the nations of Europe are as militaristic today as they were when the Kaiser threw his bloody sword to spread his dominion over land and sea.

Man must be a fighting brute. He emerges from one bloody war to find himself engaged in another. General Smuts was and is an apostle of peace. He was for the league of nations as Woodrow Wilson drafted it. Now he is without political honor in his own country.

BOYCOTTING THE BANKS

Joseph S. McCoy, a noted treasury expert, has made an interesting report. He finds four hundred million dollars hoarded in the United States. According to this treasury official hoarded money in the United States amounts to more than four hundred million dollars, and there are eight thousand hoarders that can be classed as misers with forty-four million dollars hid away.

Aliens have hidden away two hundred and twenty-five million dollars and farmers come next with one hundred and twenty-five million dollars kept in their homes.

These hoarders draw no interest on their money. It is dead to all intents and purposes. They do not put it in productive enterprises.

They take it out of circulation and they keep it out. There doesn't appear to be any law to reach them. Man is a funny brute.

HENRIK ON THE ROAD AGAIN

Senator Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota is on the road again. This time he has plunged the prongs of his pitchfork into the federal reserve bank or board. He says that the board has cost the farmers of America fifty billion dollars in four years. Henrik was a dentist before he became a statesman. He is able to make figures lie.

Middle class people are those who are not tempted by a used car unless it is a good pain job.

In the old days a lodge ring persuaded the banker to make you the loan; now a golf bag does it.

Nature is kind, and some people get over mumps and measles and things before they come to matrimony.

A classic is what the publisher offers if you will at once finish paying in full for the set of trash.

If the groom dances divinely and has nice shiny hair, the young people will make their home with the bride's parents.

The wild son may go to the dogs. But the nice one may remain at home and learn to play the saxophone.

It is estimated that 85 per cent of the mail shrieks an invitation for somebody to throw it in a waste basket.

A friend is one who manfully chokes his guffaw when you assert that you are working too hard.

As a rule, a "brilliant" youth is one who has learned to believe in standards that will get him into trouble.

The feeling that will make you resent a "No Admittance" sign may be democracy, but more probably it is curiosity.

A resort is a place where everybody's attitude indicates the belief that you are a small-town cashier trying to conceal it.

In these decadent times a king doesn't have much to do, except give his blessing to the faction that happens to be on top.

Another thing hard to understand is why a tire that is fixing to blow out knows just when you have on white pants.

The class of immigrants that settled this country isn't the one that now so frequently wishes to settle at 20 cents on the dollar.

In every nation there are people ignorant enough to be inflamed by another nation's policy that doesn't mean anything to them.

There may be few rich men in jail, but if one has sense enough to get rich why should he monkey around and get in jail?

Families of Candidates In New York to Witness Battles for Nomination

BY DOROTHY SHUMATE
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, June 23.—It is one thing to come to a political convention to see your father nominated—but it is another story when you lose your shoes doing it.

That's just what happened to Sally McAdoo, young daughter of William Gibbs McAdoo.

Of course she is interested in father, but I sure do want my shoes," Sally says.

Wanted Her Black Suede
"I came down to see father nominated but have you seen my black suede shoes?"

Sally McAdoo, slim, dark-eyed and of "hoppers." The fly deposits an lovely-gowned in a henna crepe dress on straight lines and "hoppers" head to the body. The medium brimmed white braided hat, "hoppers" is stupefied, and the egg with her feet tucked under—and she scratches her head.

She was evidently interested in the millions, and one farmer reported talk about her growing to be a politician, that his land was thickly strewn with tickles, and she smiled at the egg-hoppers which had been attached to her running for office.

"Maybe some day," she said, "when voters are powers and fathers are only backgrounds."

Another member of the McAdoo family will arrive today to see the candidate nominated. She is Aunt Julia, old family name of William Gibbs McAdoo from Georgia.

The Georgia delegation which arrived at the Hotel Vanderbilt, to-morrow of the Chicago Milwaukee day, brought her along.

Mrs. Alfred E. Smith and her son, Illinois, Rush D. Simmons, chief daughter Emily have come down from New York to see the governor nominated here today.

Confidence in All
Last night at the Newspaper Guild, the federal jury was Women's club. Mrs. Smith and returning indictments against men in Emily expressed every confidence in connection with the Roundout nomination of the "Idol of New York."

JEER FLIES AIDING IN GRASSHOPPER WAR

BROWNWOOD, Texas, June 23.—Farmers of Brown county have found a valuable ally in their fight on the grasshopper.

Their unheralded aide is a species of fly that suddenly appeared and makes its special duty that of attacking the grasshopper.

It is said, the flies are present by the millions, and one farmer reported talk about her growing to be a politician, that his land was thickly strewn with tickles, and she smiled at the egg-hoppers which had been attached to her running for office.

"Maybe some day," she said, "when voters are powers and fathers are only backgrounds."

ON MARRIAGE TO WRONG PERSON

Rev. Yelderman Draws Analogy With Things

Habits, customs, wrong kind of living, Sunday junkies, wrong associates, indifference, worldliness and unchristianity were scored by Rev. R. H. Yelderman at the First Christian church last night as "some of the things" which men of today are married to.

Rev. Yelderman in announcing his sermon subject, "The Man Who Married the Wrong Woman," said that he would not talk about any man's wife present in his audience last night but he desired to make a spiritual application which would fit in 1924.

"I am not making a grade against modern day marriage, though I see people every day married to the wrong person," he said. "What I do want to say is that some men—and some women—are married to the wrong thing."

"I think of human life, of its bigness, its wonder and possible growth. I marvel; and when I think of a family, I think of how a man has been made by the confidence, faith and help of a good wife. A wife can make a husband or she can ruin him."

As an illustration of this fact, Rev. Yelderman told of a man whom God loved, who was great, who did what was right and what God commanded him to do. This man was Samson, who married Delilah. Rev. Yelderman graphically portrayed Samson's downfall.

"What a wonderful life Samson could have lived and what a wonderful work he could have done had he married the right woman," he said. "But his life was ruined and he was finally crushed by marrying the wrong woman who played havoc with his life."

"And now I want to speak of human beings who are married to the wrong things, which are gradually crushing their lives. What are people married to in 1924 that would have such an influence on their lives?"

"Some men are married to habits and customs. When a man has a habit of taking God's name in vain, he is married to the wrong thing. A man who demoralizes Sunday will be called to account and the man who does that is married to the wrong thing."

"There are some folks married to the wrong kind of living. Some women today are the wrong kind of living are crushing the best elements of womanhood just as Samson's life was crushed by his marriage to the wrong woman. Others are married to the wrong associates, and still others are married to the wrong ideal and concept of life. Some people, even church members, are married to indifference and others are married to worldliness and unconcern to God's kingdom."

As a closing appeal to his talk, Rev. Yelderman urged that any of his hearers who were married to these wrong things get a divorce from them. "They only mean ruin and have in a person's life," he concluded.

What business barometer, if any, should the average man watch? Why?

In the Dances plan a "prosperity index" for Germany is planned, based on the volume of rail traffic, foreign trade, the consumption of coal, and of luxuries.

There are other business barometers worth watching. The importance of the farmers as purchasers makes it imperative to watch crop figures and prices. The Federal Reserve Board's weekly report of bank debits is a good index of present conditions, decreasing when times are hard, increasing when there is a boom. The weekly report of bank deposits, the rise and fall of the total of bank deposits, commercial failures, the swing of securities, are other indications which show which way the business winds are blowing.

Perhaps the best single barometer for the average man to watch is the Steel corporation's unfilled orders, since steel enters into the manufacture of so vast a number of articles. As steel goes, so goes business, is a good motto.

Stomach Pump Saves Lad From Aspirins

PARIS, June 23.—The two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuyden was hungry enough to eat anything. The first thing he discovered was a box of aspirin tablets. He devoured practically the whole contents of the box before his mother found him.

Doctors resorted to the stomach pump, and the boy is as well as ever.

Bastrop Boys, Girls Hold Encampment

BASTROP, June 23.—The annual encampment of the boys and girls agricultural club of Bastrop county will be held in the county fair grounds June 19 and 20, under the supervision of the extension department of A. and M. college with county demonstration agent G. C. King and Miss Hely Saunders in charge.

'Hizzoner' Takes Air With Chub Watson

LUFKIN, June 23.—"I may be old, but he's young ideas," is saying which applies very appropriately to Mayor Sam H. Kerr.

"Hizzoner" wanted to see how Lufkin looked from the air, so he took an official trip with "Chubby" Watson, recently appointed aerial policeman.

"It looks like a real city" was his report.

Wanderlust Causes Teachers to Leave

HOUSTON, June 23.—Wanderlust and a desire for higher education have caused seventy per cent of Houston's public school teachers to leave the city during the summer, according to Sligo Hooty, secretary to the superintendent of schools.

Cross country trips in automobiles claimed a good many and various universities lured others to all parts of the U. S.

Then 'His Honor' Fined the Defendant

FORT WORTH, June 23.—An old man appeared before Judge Cullen Bailey in police court here to plead that the case against his son, charging him with parking longer than the limit, be dismissed.

"It isn't the fine I want to avoid your honor," he explained. "It's the odium attached to paying a fine I don't like."

"Or dollar and cents," said the judge, "and give the boy the odium."

DENTON WOMAN RELIC OWNER

Has Crockery Over 100 Years Old

DENTON, Texas, June 23.—Quaint old pieces of crockery more than 100 years old, bits of jewelry worn by women of past generations, books, letters, and other relics of bygone days are owned by Mrs. O. P. Taylor of Denton. Mrs. Taylor is 60 years old.

Unique among the collection are the delicately wrought breast-plate worn by Mrs. Taylor's grandmother and made entirely of human hair, except for the metal holder and this bit of glass which frames the tiny braids taken from the heads of her grandmother's children.

An old platter, yellow with age, carries illustrations of the fairy tale, "The Irons and the Heat" in different colors that have never faded. The platter has deep furrows down the middle and a bowl at one end into which gravy drips.

College diplomas, granted in 1922 and inscribed in Latin script, daguerotypes, and letters nearly a century old are in the collection.

Loss of Arms No Handicap to Coffey

DENTON, June 23.—The average person with Fred Coffey's handicap might figure the odds too great against him, but not so Coffey.

When he was 13 years old Coffey was thrown in front of a binder which severed both arms at the wrists. For two months he was in bed, but that fall he went to school. He has been going ever since.

At the State Teachers college, where he is now a student, Coffey stood among the 10 honor students of an attendance of 2000. He was elected editor in chief of the school annual—the highest honor the student body can confer. He won a $100 scholarship, took first in the high school in the meet at S. M. U. and won his college letter. Twice he has been chosen president of his class.

His Cash in Pail of Butter; Robbed

WACO, June 23.—L. H. Kinchloe, truck farmer, has no more faith in "ideas." When he started to town with a load of garden truck he had $50 which he decided would be safest from kidnapers hidden in a bucket of butter.

Someone with lots of perspicacity or a seventh sense located the hiding place and penalized Kinchloe for his "idea."

San Saba Settlers Meet on August 10

BURNET, June 23.—Plans are being made for the San Saba County Old Settlers' association to meet August 10, the first day of the San Saba county fair.

G. K. Gray of Cherokee is president; S. E. W. Hudson vice president and John Sierra secretary.

Marked Changes In Styles Seen By Fashion Experts For Early Summer Season

FASHIONS, like gossip, travel fast. Styles change so quickly that it is only the woman who is a constant reader who manages to keep up with them. Time was when the woman living in the small town could be distinguished from her city sisters, but this is not true today.

American women are the best dressed women in the world and this is undisputed. While Paris is termed the fashion center of the world, one can travel one hour outside of Paris and find no resemblance of style.

For this reason it is safe to say that America is the fashion center of the world. The American village is a fashion center which duplicates the current styles of larger American cities. There are practically no poorly dressed communities in America.

And the swift changes in style are noticed in the sleeveless frocks which were worn for street wear last summer, and which will be replaced by frocks with the shoulder sleeves or the long sleeves. The sleeveless frock is again returning to evening wear. But Port Arthur women still admire these sleeveless frocks and it is predicted that they will be worn here as long as the warm weather continues.

Three-quarter length sleeves are shown on many frocks, but these are best suited to the fleshy person. The woman who prefers the short sleeves for warm weather will choose the one which comes over the shoulder and for street wear she will have a soft scarf of matching material or a self-toned silk scarf or a small crepe attachment which takes away the unbecoming appearance of the short-sleeved frock.

Many of the most fashionable frocks both in silk and in cotton fabrics feature the low, wide which reach to the wrist. Full pleated chiffon sleeves which terminate in a band at the wrist are cool and quite as effective as the sleeveless model. Sweaters will not be as popular this year as they have been in previous seasons, because of the vogue for the knit dress and the sports jacket. Many summer women, however, will continue to wear the sweater sportswear and the favorite type of the alpaca. Knit suits with the tailored blouse are popular for outdoor wear.

There is a tendency on the part of well dressed women to get away from the colorful scarf. Plain scarves with embroidered, fringed or beaded ends are finding favor in the better shops. Appliques of Chinese embroidery

Miss Fisher And Mr. Z. T. McGuire Are Wed Sunday

A wedding of much interest to a wide circle of friends in Port Arthur and Beaumont was solemnized Sunday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fisher, 1035 Beaumont avenue, when Miss Eunice Lucile Fisher became the bride of Mr. Z. T. McGuire.

Charles E. Weidner, pastor of the First Congregational church read the impressive service in the presence of a few friends and relatives. The bride wore an attractive frock of cream chantilly lace and blue georgette over flesh colored satin. With picture hat of lace and georgette with accessories in harmony. She carried a beautiful bouquet of cream roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Roberta Fisher, who was attired in a pretty frock of white crepe and lace, and carried a small bouquet of pink and white roses. Mr. L. V. Richardson served as best man.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McGuire of Beaumont and is connected with the Sabine Towing company.

Following the ceremony a delicious luncheon was served, the home being attractively decorated for the occasion.

During the morning Mr. and Mrs. McGuire left for a motor trip to Houston and other Texas points on their wedding trip.

Those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. For, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bates and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hendricks, Miss Roberta Fisher, L. V. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McGuire, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fisher and Master A. V. Fisher.

NORTH TEXAS RADIO FANS' CLUB ORGANIZED

DALLAS, June 23.—Probably the most unique club in Texas is presided over by Rush Hall, Dallas high school student and radio fan.

Every Sunday afternoon, Hall with his station GRU calls the roll of club members in a dozen Texas counties and the North Texas Radiophone club is in session. After answering the call several times over his powerful set, Rush announces that he is "standing by" for members to "come in." Then from all parts of Texas come responses as each member announces he's "present."

Only one member is allowed to "take the air" at a time. The members can confer, adopt resolutions, and conduct parliamentary business over the radio.

Rush says the club isn't exclusive. All that is needed is a radio set, and any radio fan can be a member. The organization is growing rapidly.

ALIENS ATTEMPT TO ENTER STATES

Rum Runners Also Busy Near El Paso

EL PASO, June 23.—Nightly through the "back door" of the United States, aliens and liquor smugglers attempt to cross the El Paso Grande. With 600 miles of sand, shrubbery and mountains to patrol, it is no easy task to prevent their entrance, says George J. Morris, federal director for the district.

13,000 aliens have been turned back in the last ten months, and now that the Japanese are to be excluded also, officials anticipate more difficulty than ever.

El Paso formerly was the center of the Chinese immigration difficulties. There were two schools in El Paso which taught Chinese in answering the questions of government agents might ask. Hundreds of their pupils stole into the United States. Mounted river guards patrol the border, and occasionally one is killed in a skirmish with smugglers.

"It's too big a job for the few men we have," Morris said.

"Fortunately relief is in sight. The Budapest appropriation bill provides money for 500 additional inspectors, and we expect it to help the situation greatly."

CLAIMS HOUSE, YARD, DAMAGED BY SOOT

HOUSTON, June 23.—Alleging her pretty yard, garden and newly painted house were damaged by soot spread by a locomotive of the C. N. & S. A. standing on a track nearby, a washerwoman by the name of Lee Fortson is suing the railroad for $600 damages.

$100 is asked for damages to her business of washing. She alleges that the clothes from a hotel were on the line at the time, and that the "flood" of grease, soot, and slime from the locomotive ruined the clothes and caused the hotel to shut her off as their washerwoman.

Illness of Aviator Delays World Flight

CALCUTTA, June 23.—Lieutenant Lowell Smith, commanding America's world flier, is ill and this is delaying the round-the-world flight. The airman is at Rangoon, whence they hope to fly tomorrow if Smith is sufficiently recovered.

A tremendous welcome is being prepared here for the Americans. They are due to arrive Thursday. If they leave Rangoon Tuesday, they will land at Navabganj, 10 miles from the city.

New Hotel To Be Built in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 23.—Construction will start immediately on the erection of a new 18-story commercial hotel in the heart of the downtown business district of St. Louis, to be known as the Mayfair Hotel. The hotel, which will be one of the finest in the country, representing an investment of $2,250,000, is expected to be completed and ready for occupancy by August 1, 1935.

This magnificent "dope" is just what the Mayfair Investment company, which will build and operate the new hotel, S. W. Straus and company, investment bankers of Chicago, who have furnished more than $35,000,000 for building construction in the south and southwest, have agreed to aid in financing the project with a first mortgage 0.1-2 per cent bond issue of $1,000,000.

The new Mayfair, which will be located at Eighth and St. Charles streets, will be a monumental structure containing 400 rooms with bath.

It will be of reinforced concrete, faced with tan and buff brick. Simplicity and beauty mark the exterior design, the general style of the architecture being of modified Italian renaissance with a Carthage stone base and mait glaze cream colored terra cotta. The interior will be finished in marble and hard-wood. Preston J. Bradshaw of this city, nationally known architect, designed the hotel.

SLAYER'S PUPILS TO BE EXAMINED

Leopold Conducted Classes In Bird Lore

CHICAGO, June 23.—Learning that Nathan Leopold Jr., one of the confessed slayers of 14-year-old Robert Frank was a "professor" of ornithology—conducting classes in bird life among families of wealthy—the office of state attorney Robert E. Crowe today announced several of Leopold's "pupils" would be called for questioning.

Leopold, it was learned, made his "spending money" by organizing classes in bird lore. Wives and children of wealthy Chicago businessmen were enrolled.

"We will examine these so-called pupils of Leopold," an attaché of the state attorney's office said. "They may give us additional knowledge concerning Leopold's life and probably many of them will be able to testify that he was sane."

A tremendous welcome is being prepared here for the Americans. They are due to arrive Thursday. If they leave Rangoon Tuesday, they will land at Navabganj, 10 miles from the city.

There are only four distinct tastes—bitter, sweet, salt and acid.

The fox can bleat like a lamb and mew like a cat.

SPUDDER PARK AGAIN BURNED TO GROUND

WICHITA FALLS, June 23.—Fire believed to have started in the cushion room, destroyed the grand stand at Athletic Park, home of the local "T" League Club, Sunday night. The loss is estimated at $35,000.

WOMEN BREAK INTO PRISON

Offer 'Dope' to Deputy; Both Jailed

DALLAS, June 23.—Giving their names as Mrs. L. C. Mills and Clara Green, two women broke into jail here after offering "dope" to jail officials. They first offered the "dope" to Hillard Britte, who refused and referred them to Hal Hood, deputy sheriff.

"Sure," said Hood. "Where is it?" One of the women produced a box containing six grains of morphine, and the other brought forth a needle, melting spoon, and the rest of the paraphernalia.

When the women found out Hood was a deputy sheriff, they walked back to jail—as if they had that habit.

They are being held for federal authorities.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Why, it's as pretty as America!" exclaimed Nancy.

The next night when Johnny Jump Up took the Twins to the magic garden, the titmouse was waiting.

"Let me see your tickets to France," he demanded. "Are they pink?"

"Pink with a blue stripe across and a date in yellow," said Johnny Jump Up. "They are the very latest style, for the fairy brought them to us from France herself."

"All right then, I'll punch them," said the titmouse. "Hop on, everybody."

So Johnny Jump Up and Nancy and Nick jumped on his little brown back, and giving his little black conductor's cap a hard pat so it wouldn't come off, the titmouse flew away to France.

"Goodby!" called the man-in-the-moon.

"Goodby!" called the glow-worms and lightning bugs and beetles and crickets and grasshoppers. "Goodby!"

The ocean would take you and me a week to cross, my dears, in a very big fast boat. But it took the Twins and Johnny Jump Up only a whisk and a puff to get there.

"Where shall we go first?" asked the titmouse.

"To Paris," said Johnny Jump Up. "I want the Twins to see the big cat tower in the world."

So to Paris they went, and the titmouse flew right to the top of a tower built entirely of iron, and so high that it nearly touched the clouds.

"It's like being in an aeroplane," cried Nick. "You can see the whole world nearly from here."

"Paris is a big place, isn't it?" exclaimed Nancy looking down.

"About as big as London Town," said Johnny Jump Up. "One of the largest cities in the world."

"Is this where the king lives?" asked Nick.

"No, France hasn't a king any more. It has a president," said Johnny Jump Up.

"But it says in a book 'The King of France came down the hill, and never went up again.'"

"That was a long time ago," said Johnny Jump Up. "Now then, titmouse, take us to the country."

"Why, it's as pretty as America!" exclaimed Nancy in surprise. "The rivers and fields and woods are just the same."

"Almost," said Johnny Jump Up. "Only the farm houses are not off by themselves as they are in America. They are in a bunch, and barns where they keep their cows and pigs are joined to the houses."

They flew over more big cities and then to a place in the south of France where was a lovely blue sea, and where oranges were growing.

"This is about the most beautiful place in all the world," said Johnny. "It is called the Golden Coast."

"Oh, let's go home," purred the titmouse. "I think bed is the most beautiful place in the world just now."

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By Uncle RAY

A Norman Wants to Rule England.

The Normans took on many ways of the French. They began to speak the French language. Soon they were almost the same as other people in France; but there was one important difference. They kept the bold spirit of the Normans and were more active than their neighbors.

The ruler of the Normans was called the duke. One duke was named Robert. He was a wild fellow, and people spoke of him as Robert the Devil. By and by he decided to go to Jerusalem as a pilgrim. He thought that might make up for his sins.

Robert died on the journey. The next ruler in line was his son, William. The mother of William was named Arletta; she was the daughter of a tanner.

William proved to be full of energy. When only 20, he led an army to help the French king put down a rebellion. One of William's best friends was Edward, the king of England. The Norman duke paid him a visit in London.

King Edward had been brought up in Normandy. He gave high offices to quite a few Normans. When Edward died, William said he had been promised the throne of England.

Of course the English didn't like to have a Norman for king. They wanted an Englishman at the head of the country. Since Edward had no child it was decided to make an earl, named Harold, king.

William told Harold not to accept the throne. Harold refused. Then William got ready for war. He called together hundreds of knights with their soldiers. They made ready to cross from France to invade England.

Color Cut-Outs THE GREAT SNAKE CHARMER

"See the snake charmer from India!" bellowed Billy Cut-out through a megaphone as the crowd of boys and girls gathered around the side show tent at the Cut-outs' neighborhood circus.

They all paid pins and went inside. There was a platform on which the freaks would be shown. The performers were to enter from a little dressing room tent right back of the platform.

Billy Cut-out, who was managing the side show, collected the last pins, then he came inside and the show was ready to begin. "Ladies and gentlemen, here is the great snake charmer," he announced.

Out walked Mary Ellen, who lived in the neighborhood, with a big "snake" wound all around her. Nobody was supposed to guess that it was an old garden hose painted green.
